

Commissioner Katie S. “Kay” Cashion

Kay Cashion, a Democrat, is serving her first full term on the Guilford County Board of Commissioners. She was appointed to represent District 6 in 2004 and was elected to office in 2006.

She is the owner of Cashion’s Furniture and Decorating in Greensboro.

Commissioner Cashion serves as a liaison for the Board of Commissioners on several Boards including the Criminal Justice Partnership, the Greensboro Partnership Strategic Plan Committee, and the Juvenile Crime Prevention Council. She also serves on the Board’s Community Based Organization Committee, New Budget Process Committee, Jail Construction Advisory Committee, and School Budget Committee.

She is a member of several state and national organizations including the Women of NACo Leadership Group, NACo Justice and Public Safety Steering Committee, and the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners’ Intergovernmental Relations Steering Committee.

She is active in numerous civic and volunteer organizations including Family Service of the Piedmont, the Family & Children’s Foundation of Greensboro, and the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce. She is also Past President of the Greensboro Junior Woman’s Club and Dolley Madison Women’s Club.

Commissioner Cashion is the mother of four and currently resides in Greensboro.